Year-end Class Champions will be selected for each class in each division. Points will be calculated in each individual class. There will be no minimum number of shows required. ANY exhibitor that has nominated for year-end awards will be eligible for year-end individual class awards in each class in their division, regardless of whether or not they meet All-Around requirements.

All-Around Awards will be calculated in each division. A Year-end Ranch Horse All-Around Champion and Reserve Champion will be selected and prizes awarded in each division with additional awards depending the number of entries.

To be eligible for All -Around Ranch Horse awards in their division, the exhibitor will designate six (6) classes (dropping any one of the offered classes) in which points will be tracked for an All-Around Award. An exhibitor is not required to compete in all six (6) designated classes. An exhibitor may compete in all seven (7) classes, but only the six (6) predesignated classes will be tracked for All-Around points.

Please mark six (6) classes you want to count toward All-Around awards:

 Ranch Roping  Working Cow Horse (Open only)  Limited Working Cow Horse (Amateur only)
 Boxing (Novice Amateur, Sr. Youth or Jr. Youth)

Since we want to encourage versatility in our horses, all horses and riders that want to be considered for Year-end All-Around awards will be required to show in AT LEAST two (2) cattle classes and two (2) non-cattle classes in at least 50% of the shows in which they exhibit. (See Rule Book for examples.)

Points will be posted on the IRHA website (iowaranchhorse.com) as soon as possible after each show.
